Congregational Church steeple needs repairs

The Rev. George B. Taylor, III, pastor of the Congregational Church of Wilmington has a problem. He probably will have to be satisfied with a lot of smaller donations.

The church steeple, it has been determined, is in need of repairs, and the Rev. Mr. Taylor has to find the money. It isn't known just how much the repairs will cost.

It was just a century ago that the steeple needed repairs badly. It had fallen victim to a hurricane. Mrs. Dr. Frances Hiller was reported to have volunteered to pay for that steeple, but never did, and it was eventually paid for by Benjamin Buck.

Mr. Taylor is not looking for another Frances Hiller, but reportedly he would not object if anyone wants to make donations, as did the late Benjamin Buck.

Blood donations will start at 11:30 a.m. and last until 5 p.m. Fifty-four units of blood is the goal that has been set by the Wilmington Blood Committee. That is 100 per cent of the capacity of the mobile unit.

Donation will be on appointment, and would be donors are asked to call 658-2947 or 658-4747. Sandwiches and coffee will be furnished donors.

There will be, it is understood, facilities for making appointments to donate blood even during the Memorial Day Parades. It should prove interesting.

The Wilmington schools will again have a Headstart Program, for children who will be attending kindergarten or an elementary school for the first time, this fall. Children from economically disadvantaged families are to be given a priority in enrollment.

The program will be for six weeks, June 28 through August 6. Classes will be from 8 a.m. to noon. There will be bus transportation, a breakfast type snack, and a hot lunch before being dismissed at noon.

Applications must be filed before June 11. Mr. DeRosa, 658-3494 will be in charge of the program.

Lake Street Bridge to be rebuilt

Within six months or so there will be a new bridge over the B & M Railroad, at Lake Street. Computations are now taking place in the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, on costs of such a bridge. The planning work started on May 17 and should take about one month to complete.

The bridge is by arrangement of Rep. Fred F. Cain. Mr. Cain, on May 13 received a letter from the Town Manager, asking that he investigate the possibility of a replacement for the bridge, which has been closed to traffic because a number of arson attempts have weakened the structure. The Town Manager wrote a letter because the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce was asking the selectmen to find an answer to the problems created because the bridge was closed.

The new bridge will be wider than the present one. It is being planned to be 24 feet wide, and to support a load of 20 tons. No costs have yet been assigned.

The key to the rebuilding of the bridge will be the use of laminated wooden beams - virtually fire proof, strong, and easy to obtain. If standing wooden beams were to be used there would be a least a six month waiting period, just for the beams.

MOSQUITO PROGRAM

Each evening, five evenings a week, the Town of Wilmington sends out a team of men from the Tree Department, to spray against mosquitoes. This generally starts about 8 p.m. and lasts until 12 a.m.

Unfortunately, there are many children who feel it is fun to chase the spraying vehicle.

They endanger themselves in doing this. The hour is late, and there is a good chance that they might be killed by a passing motorist.

The parents of these children will have to make their choice. Stop the kids from chasing, or we will stop the anti-mosquito program.

Some selectmen like Spinazola site

After a long and protracted fighting over a town dump, in the annual town meeting, the selectmen of Wilmington made a gentlemen's agreement that they would now retire to the sidelines, and allow the Town Manager to make a businessman's decision on the future of solid waste disposal in Wilmington.

Retire to the sidelines they did. There was a weekly report on from the Town Manager, including a report on the 13 bids received a couple of weeks ago. Since then things have been stirring a bit.

Many Wilmington residents are perturbed because there may not be any dump at all in Wilmington, and secondly because Mr. Godzyk might be put out of business if the contract for solid waste disposal goes to an out-of-town firm. A dump in Wilmington is regarded by many as a sort of insurance for Wilmington. Mr. Godzyk has a record of many years of service, too, and there are people who will be unhappy if he is pushed aside.

Monday night the situation erupted, in the selectmen's meeting. Selectmen Banda and Gillis did the spouting, with three selectmen trying at times to calm things down. Banda said he was trying to save the town a quarter of a million dollars, and either he or Mr. Gillis called in the out-of-town press to hear the resulting noise.

Gillis explained that he had been talking with Alec Arsenault of Shawshen Ave. Mr. Arsenault was one of the bidders. He has all the equipment, Gillis noted. His price was $79 thousand. He would be using Site No. 1.

That started things. Banda joined in.

Aldo Cairra, Jim Miceli and George Boylen had objections. Cairra set that the cart was being put before the horse.

Banda compared the idea of going out of town for a dump contract to the things that happened with the MBTA - it would be entirely out of local control he said, and the solid waste contract could become a lucrative monopoly, with no control to protect the people and the local businessmen in town. He was disturbed at the decisions that seemed to be made without his knowing.

The Town Counsel was finally drawn in. The town would be unable to use Site One, Altman stated because it would have to be approved, first by the local Board of Health, and then the State Department of Environmental Engineering.

Ken Tarbell, at the Tewksbury Hospital, enforces the regulations the selectmen were told.

Mr. Gillis started. He had warned the town meeting, he said, please don't vote for anything under $130 thousand. If only $80 thousand, then there will be trouble with the Attorney General.

Here, Gillis said, we can have a gentleman set up a transfer station (on Site One). By July 1. I am very much interested.

Banda accused the Town Manager of leaning toward BFI. The TM said his preference was SCI. Banda and Gillis charged that BFI was going to be "thrown out" of the Tewksbury dump. What would the TM do then?

Morris: Once he picks it up, the problem is his!

Banda: You'll get problems in Tewksbury.

Boylan: Can you get Site One? I asked. The answer is NO.

Banda disclaimed that he and Gillis had never said a word, in six weeks. He proposed a sub-committee to bring in an answer in two weeks.

Gillis: Let us stay in town, and take care of the problem ourselves! He went on to say that he would get EPA approval for Site One, and get it within two weeks. "Let's go for our own people - Let's get going!"

Cairra stated he had talked to Tarbell about the dump in Tewksbury. There was no problem, Cairra said, except the question of who is going to run the dump, mother or son.

Tarbell does not approve of Site One, Cairra said. Tarbell, according to Cairra, said Site One was the "fifth on the list made by the committee - and all of a sudden everyone buys it!"

Other sites were available, Cairra said. There was the site on Ballardvale Street - "he has the fill, he has everything!" Site One was turned down by the town meeting four times.

Banda: A quarter of a million dollars! Paolini hasn't even got a truck! Paolini owns the site referred to on Ballardvale Street.

Miceli raised questions of bonding, if a bid were given to Arsenault. There was nothing in the bid by Arsenault, he said. Arsenault was confident he could get the bond, if he got the bid.

Site One

The argument drifted back to Site One, down by the Woburn line. Cairra stated the Metcalfe & Eddy report said there was only enough gravel there for two years. Gillis: Seven years!

Boylan: Not an approved site. Gillis: It can be!

Gillis: Arsenault can do it for $79 thousand, and keep it in town.

Cairra: How can you put out specs, and then disregard those specs?

Town Manager: To get Site One it would have to be completely fenced in. The entire design costs many thousands of dollars.

He reminded the selectmen of the court order. The town would have to settle its affairs by July 1, or pay a fine of $1000 a day. To sign a three year contract, he said, would be in the best interest of the town.

Paul Godzyk had been sitting silent. He now spoke up to say that the Tewksbury dump was many times worse than the Wilmington one. Wilmington needs a dump, he said "and don't kid yourself!"

Other people were coming in - Mr. Tscoulos of the town Democratic Committee, Mrs. McKie of the Finance Committee.

Tscoulos agreed with Godzyk. The town needs a dump, he said.

Mrs. McKie tried to whisper something to Gillis from across the table. "Speak up!" said Boylen, "So we can all hear!"

The arguments kept on. It was worse than the town meeting. Miceli spoke up to say that he preferred to use the Spinazola site.

He would like to see it brought up, so that it could comply with the ideas of the Attorney General.

Arsenault described the Westford Dump - smaller than Wilmington, all land fill. No problems, no birds, no seagulls, no anything. And it is run for $45 thousand a year.

Cairra: How about costs of site preparation?

Gillis: $79 thousand a year - let's do it!

Godzyk and Boylen spoke of incinerators, and the troubles they cause. Godzyk spoke of the Weymouth incinerator - the town went into debt for $600 thousand to build it, "and then it was condemned."

Boylan doubted the state reports on the Spinazola dump. Mr. Boylen is a chemist, with MIT. "There isn't one shred of evidence" he said, against the Spinazola dump.

"They could have poured chemicals into that dump, and traced the chemicals. They didn't!"

"I don't think the state has any evidence, and I don't think it is able to produce any evidence against that dump."

Godzyk: It has been there for 20 years. It has saved money for the people of Wilmington, and for the businesses too. If it closes down the town will be in a fix.

The meeting then went into executive session.

More than beer

Two men were arrested, on Fordham Road, Wilmington during the night of May 11 and charged with the possession of marijuana. Officers LaRivee and Rooney found two bags of marijuana in their possession, and they were smoking the material at the time the police arrived. One man was from Methuen, and the other was a New Hampshire man.

The police have been patrolling Fordham Road more frequently because it has become a place for night time beer drinking, and there have been many complaints of broken glass.

No stars in Cactus Flower

There were no stars in the recent WHS Drama Club presentation of Cactus Flower. There was, rather a continuous, sparkling glow emanating from the stage of the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium during the entire production, with each actor/actress seemingly attempting to play his or her part in a manner that would star their colleagues rather than themselves.

There were, of course, lead players and those who played smaller parts, but the entire production was so well done that no one could be termed an individual star.

Karen Wiberg as Stephanie Dickinson, the sedate and "oh, so efficient" assistant to the high-stepping dentist, Dr. Julian Winston, played by Larry Burke, complimented each other all the way down the line.

Igor Sullivan and Toni Simmons, the slightly more "with it" and slightly younger supporting duo (Susan Fitzpatrick and Joe Scaro) put their message across to perfection; Harbey Greenberg, Dr. Winston's long-time ne're-do-well friend and patient, played by Gary Atamian and his girlfriend, Boticelli Springtime, portrayed by Carol Adams were well done indeed.

Tracy Sullivant was excellently cast as the matronly, always late Mrs. Durant, patient of Dr. Winston who rang the doorbell at the most appropriate times.

Les Dangerfield as Senor Sanchez, the crochety Latin dental patient with eyes for sedate and proper nurse Dickinson, left nothing to be desired in his performance.

Cheri Martin as the waitress and Don Sunnerberg as the music lover said next to nothing, but looked and acted their parts so well that the atmosphere of the scenes would have been lost without them.

Working behind the scenes: Maureen Howlett, Don Sunnerberg, Carol Adams, Phyllis Downs, Nancy Hooper, Kelly Shiners, Faith Syverson, Lucy Stille, Cheri Martin, Hope Syverson.

Cactus Flower is a long play, involving endless hours of rehearsal.

Certainly such success would not have been possible without the obvious fondness, respect and admiration the players and production workers have for their director, Lucy Stille.

Well done, very well done, indeed!!

LETTERS

Dear Larz:

I wish to thank publicly all those who contributed to the successful dedication and celebration of the Bicentennial Room at the Wilmington Memorial Library on Sunday, May 23. Without their help the occasion could not have been observed, nor could it have been such a happy time.

The Rev. George Taylor is to be thanked for providing historical material for display; Mrs. Robert Pease and her musicians for providing joyful and appropriate music for the occasion; Capt. Philip Colberth of the Wilmington Minutemen who provided the military honors; Mrs. Milton Cram, Sr. and the Beautification Committee who provided the floral arrangements; Mrs. Adele Passmore, Mrs. Melinda Murphy, Foster Balser and Mrs. Gary Balser who assisted in providing the various refreshments; Steve O'Brien of the Wilmington High School, who with his students, presented slides of historical Wilmington; and finally, my staff.

The Trustees of the Town can be proud of Mrs. Foster Balser, Miss Sue MacDonald, Mrs. William Rueter, Miss Christina Molesevich, and Mrs. Bruce Peters. I am indebted to these individuals, and to others on my staff, for providing the Town a joyful occasion for the dedication of the Bicentennial Room. My sincere thanks to them all.

Philip W. Meriam
Library Director

An open letter to the residents of Wilmington:

I have hesitated writing this letter because, as a parent of one of the participants, I can openly be accused of bias and prejudice. I readily accept those charges, because this letter must be written.

The Wilmington high school has several extra-curricular activities that are worthy of public support. The athletic teams you already know about and some do support them, but I am writing about music and drama. The High School Jazz Band is terrific and definitely needs your moral, if not your financial support. Their concerts are not getting the attendance they deserve. The Drama Club, on May 14 and 15, presented "Cactus Flower." I was embarrassed for them by your failure to attend. I thoroughly enjoyed their presentation.

These are good kids and they work hard. They need your support and encouragement. Why not give it to them?

From the Fire Log
Between May 9 and May 23, members of Wilmington's Fire Department answered 70 calls for assistance, including:

Thirty ambulance runs; 23 brush fires; five service calls; three dumpster fires; five building fires; two false alarms; two automobile fires and one call for mutual aid.

Yes they do...!
Sometimes, it would seem that the very fact of being a teenager allows one to display no emotion other than disgust or anger. From this, perhaps stems the oft-used phrase "teenagers never appreciate anything that's done for them."

Michael Tammaro, eighth grade geography teacher at Wilmington's NIS might disagree with those words.

Mr. Tammaro has been working diligently to help his geography pupils help themselves to raise funds for the planned trip to Washington D.C. early next month.

At a recent dance held at NIS, Mr. Tammaro's geography students presented him a beautiful new watch - one of the latest ones on which one may press a button to illuminate the dial at night - a collective token of the appreciation of a large group of teenagers.

Frank Lentini roasted

BEFORE THE ROASTING: An unsuspecting Frank Lentini enters the Elks Hall in Billerica. Back to camera, looking at her husband is Beverly Lentini, and following Frank, casually, is Chris DiCecca, Venerable of the Wilmington Lodge.

Betty Aprile and Jim Rando, back to camera, are ready to start the roast.

It was roast Frank Lentini, on May 15 at the Billerica Elks. The Wilmington High soccer coach and practical arts teacher was the victim of circumstances beyond his control, as the Wilmington Sons of Italy and others subjected him to a real surprise party.

Over 200 people attended. There were many surprises, a state citation given by Rep. Fred Cain, and a Wilmington presentation given by Selectman Aldo Cairra. One of those present was Manny Marshall, head football coach at Winchester High, and a classmate of Lentini's and another was Henry Knowlton, who was Lentini's football coach at Winchester High School.

standing work of Wilmington High School seniors, in promoting blood programs. Two years ago the Class of 1975 collected 211 pints of blood at one Bloodmobile, and this year the Class of 1976 set a new record with 220 pints. This is the most ever collected at one time, in any Greater Lowell High School.

The Seniors, the American Red Cross noted, did the entire work by themselves, from recruiting to working in the canteen.

The 1975 Drive in Wilmington High School proved to be a stimulant to other schools. It was noted by the Boston Herald-American, and other schools were urged to become involved.

As a result the Northeast Regional Red Cross Blood Program is now actively supported by many schools within the two state area.

Leane Smith bronze medalist

Six members of the Wilmington Figure Skating Club, in addition to a 16 member Precision Team, competed recently in an Open Competition held by the Skating Club of Worcester.

Leane Smith of Woburn St., was awarded third place in her skating category which consisted of 12 skaters of similar ability and age. Other club members who placed highly in the competition were Barbara Baker, Gail Hanson and Robin MacDonald all of whom placed fourth in their respective categories and Christine Cook who came in fifth, also out of a field of 12 competitors.

The girls are now busily preparing for the next competition which will take place in Acton on June 6 in the hope of repeating if not bettering their results in Worcester. This competition which will offer freestyle and interpretative divisions is sponsored by the Mass. Interclub Figure Skating Council of which the Wilmington Club has been a member for two skating seasons.

Dunn fought the courageous fight

Before someone else says it, and they undoubtedly should - Heavyweight Richard Dunn fought one of the most courageous fights that this writer has ever seen fought this past Monday night against the champion Muhammed Ali.

After watching the fight and inspecting one Candice Bergen at some length, I tuned to watch a sports caster downgrade the fight and Dunn's performance. The newsmen was practically laughing out loud as the filmed highlights of the fight were shown.

Dunn was knocked down five times and to his credit he kept getting up. I don't think he kept getting up to earn his money - or even to give the crowd a show.

He kept getting up because he wanted to win. That fact alone is to be admired greatly. The sports casters' comments make you realize how someone can sit behind a desk and judge an athlete's performance. It makes me think that my job as a sports writer is not one to be taken lightly.

I should not attempt to make light of an athlete's effort - no matter how bad it looks. The Monday night sportscast was a good reminder.

Wildcats hold off Redmen

Monday, May 24...Wildcat ace Barry Foster turned back the Tewksbury Redmen 5 - 2 in MVC baseball action. Foster received fine relief help from Jim Stewart as the WHS record moved to 7 - 8 in the Merrimack Valley Baseball Conference.

Tewksbury's Matt Riddle was the victim on an extra base hitting Wildcat attack. Steve Woods banged out a triple and pitcher Foster slashed a double to key the winning attack.

Bantam B's

The Bantam B's continue unbeaten picking up wins number five and six defeating Haverhill 3 - 2 and South Boston 7 - 1. In the Haverhill game Gordon Smith made it 1 - 0 on a tip of a Ken MacMullen drive. Haverhill tied it at 1 - 1, then went ahead 2 - 1 at 7:47 of the third period.

John Carter scored a short handed goal on lead pass from John Murphy. On his second of the day, Smith scored the game winner when his shot deflected off a Haverhill skate. John Holmes had a good day stopping 11 of 13 shots on goal.

The B's jumped to a 7 - 0 lead before allowing South Boston to score its only goal of the day on a screen shot in the slot. Scoring for the day saw Joby Duggan, two goals; Gary Stack and John Carter, one goal and one assist each. Single goals to Mark Boudreau, Daryl MacDonald, and Bob Lowney. Assists went to Keith Ford (two) and Mike Stokes (one).

The next game will be played Saturday, May 29 at 6:30 p.m. with Billerica II providing the opposition.

Austin Prep highlights

The Austin Cougar track squad ended its Merrimack Conference dual meet season by posting a 79 - 66 win over Lawrence High School.

The win over Lawrence was especially important since it marked the first and only victory of the season for the Reading Cougars. Further, since it was the last meet of the '76 season, it left a sweet taste for coaches and players.

Greg Duffy was a double winner, capturing first place in the shot (47'3 1/2") and the discus (130'4"). Other blue ribbon winners included Marc Thomas - javelin (133'4"), Chris Kiley - 440 (55.6); Kurt Meyer - low hurdles (44.6); Blaize Conte - 800 (2.15); Paul Reinzo - two mile (10.31.6); Kevin Callahan - mile and the Austin mile relay team of Conte, Kiley, Gmelch and Callahan.

The Cougars were able to salt away the win by gaining six second places and six thirds.

Steve Thompson - shot; Leo Govoni - javelin; Marc Thomas - discus; Alan Dillingham - 100; Bill Welch - two mile; and Kevin Yahnian - 440 and Barry Fitzgerald in the high hurdles were red ribbon winners.

Tom Mansour - discus; Dave DeSantis - triple jump; Kurt Meyer and Brad Bean - long jump, 100 and 220 added value points as third place finishers.

Baseball

The Cougar baseball team could not muster any offensive strength this past week as they dropped two 1 - 0 contests and a 4 - 1 encounter.

On Monday Ted Coppinger of Austin and Steve Tuell of Chelmsford hooked up in a well played pitching duel. Chelmsford rallied for a scrambling two out run in the seventh to pull out the win over Austin 1 - 0.

With two away Mike Evans singled and was replaced by George Bowen as a pinch runner. Bowen advanced to second on a wild pitch. That was followed by an attempted pick off that got by the second baseman and rolled into center field. Bowen circled third and slid safely at home in a close play at the plate for the only run of the game.

Coppinger was the hard-luck loser. He went the route, allowing only three hits while fanning seven and walking only one man.

On Thursday it was Coppinger again on the Austin mound versus Dracut. Ted pitched well allowing only six hits but his mates gave him little support in the field or at bat. Dracut was able to push four unearned runs across the plate; while the Cougars could manage only a single tally.

Next it was Mark Govoni who twirled in vain as Austin lost another 1 - 0 squeaker to Tewksbury High School.

Govoni allowed just three hits; however, a walk, a sacrifice bunt and a long single in the sixth proved to be his undoing.

The Cougar bats, silent all week, continued to make little noise. Mark Sheldon, Mike Ciampa, Chris Murphy and Joe Soneney were the only hitsmiths. The four hits were scattered; never producing a serious scoring threat.

Austin's Merrimack Conference record is now 8 - 9. They will conclude their '76 season this week against Lawrence High School. A win over this conference rival will permit the Cougars to finish the year with a 500 percentage.

WHS varsity, alumni baseball Saturday

The third annual alumni game will be played Saturday morning, May 29, at the High School field beginning at 10 o'clock. The record now stands at 1 - 1. Last year the varsity defeated the alumni 9 - 8 in spite of the pitching of Rocco DePasquale and Bill Ritchie, and the hitting of Ken Sugarman and Dave Fuller.

Any "old timer" who would like to participate should contact Jim Gillis at 658-4580.

Varsity Baseball Rocco Club

BOB APRILE: Was honored last Tuesday as the Wilmington Player of the Week, in the Varsity Baseball Club. The Player of the Week gets a steak at Rocco's, while others eat Piz-za. He is shown being greeted by Rocco. At left are Bob Woods and Barry Foster, and at right are Chris DeLuca and Aldo Caira.

The Wilmington team is now seven and eight, and Bob, last week, had three rbi's and was leading in two wins, over Dracut and Methuen.

Future Aleppo Temple? Open House Saturday

Last Saturday there was an open house, at a warehouse in Wilmington. Most of the visitors were fez wearing men, members of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. There were visitors from Wilmington, too, and a few other communities. Perhaps three or four thousand persons were in that warehouse, down at the end of Fordham Road.

Sometime in June the nearly 15 thousand members of Aleppo Shrine, in Boston, will vote on whether or not the Shriners will move their temple from Boston to Wilmington. The chances are that they will do so.

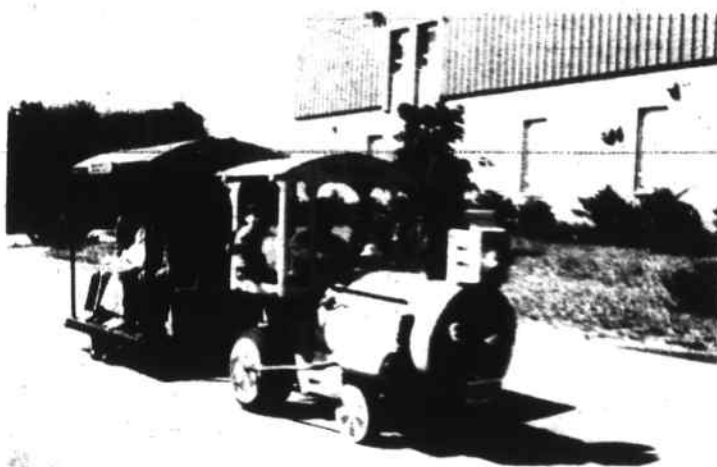

The Aleppo Temple Nobles are a Masonic affiliate. The members are divided into a number of organizations, all a part of the Temple. Some of those organizations will participate in the Memorial Day Parade, in Wilmington, making it probably the grandest Memorial Day Parade ever. The number is expected to be over 300, including the Temple Aleppo Oriental Band, one of the finest in the Shriners, one which has won a number of national championships.

The Oriental Band doesn't wear a fez. It is in an All Arabic costume, and plays weird instruments. Spectators do a double take, when they see the band, and another when they hear it.

It's the shoes that cause the double take, when spectators see the band. The shoes have curved toes, right out of the tales of Haroun El Raschid, and the ancient legends of the Near East.

Most of the members though, wear a Fez - a Red Fez. To them it is a badge of honor.

The Red Fez sets the Shriner aside from his fellow man. Yes, he is enjoying himself, but he is also a man of character, who practices humanity, charity and an observance of the Golden Rule.

THE LITTLE CHOO CHOO: Taking people for a tour of the grounds around the warehouse, last Saturday.

A Shriner is a gentleman who does not practice vulgarity, rudeness nor intemperance. Rich or poor, Shriners have a common level of friendship, brotherly love, and good fellowship. Personal, religious and social inclinations and preferences are never discussed.

But there is more to the life of a Shriner than good fellowship devoid of petty disputes.

For years the Shriners have been underwriting a great humanitarian effort - a chain of hospitals for burned and crippled children. There are hospitals all over the United States and in Canada. This is the reason for their existence - the great and glorious undertaking of the men who wear the Fez.

Every Shriner, every year, makes a $5 contribution personally, toward the hospitals. In addition,

FOUR SHRINERS: All from Wilmington. Joe Murphy of Lincoln Street, Paul Arnone of Pinewood@ Harry Cutter, Belmont Ave. and Herb Nickerson, Marie Drive.

ALEPPO TEMPLE POLKA DOTS: Providing entertainment in the warehouse.

tion, many of the things the Shriners do is planned with one thought in mind - earning money for the hospitals. There is to be a circus in Danvers, on Route 114, starting next Tuesday and lasting through June 6.

It is the Hamid Morton Circus - another of the Shriner's organizations and it is raising money for Aleppo Temple, which in turn contributes to the hospitals.

Hundreds of underprivileged and handicapped children will be the guests of the Shriners on that day. Wilmington Rotary, last week, contributed $200 to help pay for tickets.

It will be like the Memorial Day Parade, in Wilmington, only bigger. The 88 man marching band, the colorful oriental band, the 1901 antique Oldsmobile 12 car unit will be at the Danvers Town Line Twin Links, through June 6, with afternoon matinees, and evening shows at 7:45 p.m.

These are the Shriners. They have a temple in Boston - Aleppo Temple which has been using the Boston Armory for purposes of marches and drills. The Boston Armory is about to be torn down. Aleppo Temple must find a new home.

Leo Barbo of Stoneham, one of the two men who started the Wilmington Industrial Park off Concord Street owns that warehouse, down at the end of Fordham Road. It is one of a dozen or so industrial buildings. It was built for Barbo's Furniture, as a place to repair and retouch furniture. It is a large building. One room is over 400 feet long and over 150 feet wide, bigger than a couple of football fields.

Barbo's has had a change in plans, since that building was built. The warehouse was not needed, as a result. It has been leased to other firms, but it cannot be described as a profitable enterprise. Leo would like to sell it, and the 38 acres of land beside it.

Not perhaps at the present time, but some time in the future that 38 acres of land could be valuable property. The zoning is industrial. The land is off Route 93, and only 13 miles from Boston.

The Nobles have looked at Barbo's Warehouse. That big, big room is an ideal place for drills. It could be an ideal place for meetings - with thousands of persons being present, all seated. Perhaps not all 15 thousand members of Aleppo Temple could be in that room at one time - but thousands of them could be there with no discomfort.

Barbo's Warehouse could be a fine place for Aleppo Temple. The illustrious Potentate and other officers have discussed the idea with Wilmington's selectmen and other officials.

The view generally adopted is that Aleppo Temple, as a non-profit organization, needs pay no taxes on the building. This is the law in Massachusetts. The K of C, the Masons, the various veterans organizations, to name a few, pay no taxes on their headquarters, in Massachusetts. They are no-profit organizations, and Aleppo Temple is exactly that.

The industrially zoned land. That is another matter. Aleppo Temple would have to pay taxes on the land - that part which would not be included in the Temple grounds. That is recognized.

This makes it seem that all the advantages are in favor of Aleppo Temple. But there are more. It depends, however, on the vote of the members.

There are members of the Temple who are willing to allow the town to use that big meeting room, as a Town Meeting hall for instance. There would be no charge.

There are members of the Temple who have learned of the Wilmington Hospital Fund, to which so many have given. They too, want to contribute, in the name of Temple Aleppo.

Of course these things depend on the votes of the organization.

The MBTA to change Reading schedules

The train service between Reading and Boston is to be changed on June 19. The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority has announced changes in an effort to cut its deficit by $4 millions. One line of the announcement, with no reference to the locality, can be reported for the humor it conveys.

"We found a route which was so little used that it was costing the MBTA and the taxpayer more than $6.40 per passenger to operate. The farebox money covered only two percent of the cost. This is the kind of route that just can't be justified for mass transportation.

A Boston taxi could take a passenger on that route for $4.40, two dollars less than it was costing the MBTA."

A number of changes are to be made by the MBTA, and those in Reading are being made because Reading is served both by train and by bus service. Three morning trips to Sullivan Square are to be dropped, and two trips in the afternoon, back to Reading.

Three bus routes will continue service to Malden Square, from and through Reading. One of these is the Wilmington Route 136 (to Malden).

Twenty-six trains will leave Reading for Boston on weekdays and 27 will leave Boston for Reading. The travel time to North Station is 30 minutes.

Train service will start at 5:20 a.m. with 10 trains leaving for Boston before 9 a.m. There will be hourly service then until 4 p.m., when the service becomes more frequent, until 6:40. Three trains will leave after that, the last at 10:45 p.m.

The train service from North Station will be at 6:01 a.m. The service can be described as hourly, the last being at 12:10 a.m. to Reading.

On Saturdays there will be 17 trains to North Station, starting at 7 a.m. On Sundays there will be 15, starting at 8:30, and then hourly at 20 minutes past the hour.

Boston to Reading, the trains will be hourly, Saturday and Sunday. The first train, Saturday, will be at 7:45 a.m., on Sunday at 9:45 a.m.
